Empowering Unheard Voices: Supporting a Joined Up Approach to Children’s and Young People’s Health

The theme for this year is “Empowering Unheard Voices: Supporting a Joined Up Approach to Children’s and Young People’s Health”. The conference aims to highlight the various work and initiatives different individuals and organisations have undertaken to both support and act as leading voices for children and young people.

This year’s School Conference will be an exciting and valuable opportunity for all to learn, be inspired and get involved in Child Health initiatives.

Plenary speakers include:
- Kath Evans, Head of Patient Experience, NHS England
- Alyson McGregor, Director, Altogether Better
- Julia Samuel MBE, Founder Patron, Child Bereavement UK

There will be a combination of plenary sessions and workshops throughout the day. You will have the opportunity to choose your workshop on the day. Join us and network with others who are equally passionate about improving Child Health.

Registration and programme information can be found here

We invite the submission of abstracts on the theme of “Empowering Unheard Voices: Supporting a Joined Up Approach to Children’s and Young People’s Health”. Trainees are encouraged to submit QUIPs, audits, educational projects, surveys, case reports and original research on any subject addressing a previously unheard need. Please state which category your abstract falls under out of these six categories when submitting your abstract.

More information and details regarding submission can be found here

Attendance is free and you must register by 15 December 2016
